

Messy Room

“Having ADD is like having a messy room in your brain. You have everything you need, it just takes longer to find it.”

—Artist with a learning disability